

Our mission:

Protect North Lake's west shoreline and watershed, wildlife habitat, the rhody garden & the bonsai museum.

Preserve the forests, meadows and trails, & public access to them.

Maintain the campus character through high-quality development that blends with the environment and brings living-wage jobs to the community.

Our accomplishments:

- Defeated the proposed fish-processing plant and cold-storage warehouse.
- Gained support of city, county and state leaders, and a significant partner in Forterra, the land preservation organization.
- Helped secure "seed" money: $1 million in surface water management funds pledged by city leaders toward purchase of the 54-acre North Lake shoreline, plus a $1 million county matching grant recommended for County Council approval.
- Led the efforts that saw the campus designated as a "Most Endangered" property by the Washington Trust for Historic Preservation and an at-risk landscape by The Cultural Landscape Foundation.
- Educated officials, community members (and ourselves!) about the historical & environmental importance of the campus.
- Built a growing network of concerned stakeholders: More than 500 people each on our contact list & Facebook pages.
- Hosted an Earth Day walk through the campus to raise awareness and pick up roadside trash.

You have the power to make a difference!

Keep fighting the more than 1 million square feet of warehouses that owner/developer IRG continues to propose. Think: 100s of semi-trucks every day, and 60 acres of land clear-cut. Send comments to city planners.

Encourage city, county and state officials to continue their support of efforts to purchase the lakeshore property and preserve community access to the land.

Share your ideas with us for the best public use of North Lake's west shoreline, with its woods, wetlands and trails.

Donate to help cover outreach materials and looming legal costs to challenge the warehouse projects.
